

“ India's leading manufacturer of bagasse tableware & sustainable packaging solutions.”

ABOUT US

Naturomate was born from a simple but powerful idea – that the waste from one industry could become the solution for another. Founded in 2021 in Rajkot, Gujarat, we set out to transform sugarcane bagasse, the fibrous residue left after juice extraction, into premium, functional tableware.

What started as a small manufacturing unit has grown into India's most trusted name in biodegradable packaging. Today, our state-of-the-art facility produces millions of units annually, serving restaurants, caterers, airlines, hospitals, and households across the country.

Every product we make is a step toward a world free of single-use plastic – engineered for performance, designed for sustainability, and built to last just long enough.

Our Vision

“To manufacture the highest quality bagasse tableware and paper products that enables businesses and consumers to make sustainable choices without compromising on performance, aesthetics, or affordability.

We exist to make eco-friendly packaging the obvious choice – not the difficult one.”

Our Mission

“A world where single-use plastic is a thing of the past. We envision India leading the global shift to sustainable packaging, with Naturomate at the forefront supplying every restaurant, caterer, and household with packaging that gives back to the earth rather than harming it.”

Our Core Values

01

Sustainability First

Every decision we make – from raw material sourcing to packaging is guided by its environmental impact.

02

Continuous Innovation

We invest in R&D to develop better, stronger, and more versatile eco-friendly products every year.

03

INTRODUCING

EXCELLENT BAGASSE COLLECTION

The Excellent Bagasse Collection gives new purpose to the natural fibers left behind after sugarcane is harvested. Instead of going to waste, these materials are transformed into durable, sustainable tableware that blends functionality with environmental responsibility.

Each piece carries the subtle character of its natural origin, offering a warm, organic texture that feels distinctly different from conventional plastic. The result is tableware that is both practical and refined—proving that thoughtful design and sustainability can exist beautifully together.
